

IT IS WELL WITH MY SOUL

For those who have traveled any portion of the HIV/AIDS journey, the landmarks are all too familiar: fear, isolation, grief, anger, shame, prejudice, stigma. These things are very real, perhaps even necessary and are not to be wholly escaped—and still, like Elijah who emerged after the winds and earthquakes and fires brushed his mountain cave, we pause and find, miraculously, that we hear “a gentle whisper” after all, the voice of God calling to us. We wait, we breathe, and we may know as our own these words from the familiar hymn: “It is well with my soul.” Together, we find that the AIDS journey has other landmarks: community, hope, joy, pride, healing, compassion. And these landmarks become lifelines the more they are shared.

You are invited again to come to the mountain for sharing, and to listen through word and song and stillness and peace for your own “gentle whisper.” This is our 17th year of reminding one another, as Julian of Norwich reminds us all, “All shall be well, and all shall be well, and all manner of thing shall be well.”
